The Names and Faces of Yesterday's Prayers

A couple of days ago, a longtime friend posted a family portrait on his Facebook page. It included two new additions to his family. The new additions were two little boys who looked to be around three and four years old. He stated, "It's official now. So, I guess I can go ahead and make it public. My wife and I just finished the adoption process and the two little boys in the front of this picture are now our two sons." And those two boys are just as cute as can be!

As I read his words my mind suddenly flashed back about twenty-five years. He and his wife were members of the church where I was serving as pastor. In fact, I officiated at their wedding. For a couple of years, they had unsuccessfully tried to get pregnant. One Sunday night, during the altar call portion of the service, they came forward and asked me to kneel with them in the altar and pray with them that God would bless them with children.

I was honored to do so.

Their family portrait now includes seven adopted children. As I pondered what I was seeing, I posted, "These are the names and faces of yesterday's prayers!" (Reread that last sentence!) Their ages range from college students to three years old. Each has a story. And each has a unique set of circumstances that qualified them to become a member of this family.

To be Judgement Day honest with you, when we knelt in the altar, we were praying that God would allow them to conceive and birth a baby naturally. However, the truth is that God doesn't always answer our prayers on our timetable, or in the way we desire. We must realize that God's delays aren't necessarily denials! Sometimes He's simply saying, "In My time and in My way!" Just suppose that God would have answered our prayers the way we wanted. What would the result have been? Most likely, they would have had one, maybe two children, and would have lived happily ever after. And that's well and good; there's nothing wrong with that scenario! But what about those seven children in the family portrait? Who would have become the "star in the sky" for these seven children?

The following Sunday, I was invited to preach Homecoming Services at the church where I was raised. I took my text from Hebrews 11:1, which states, "Now faith is the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen." The title of my sermon was: How to Have a Faith That Becomes the Evidence of Things Unseen. Quite naturally, I shared with the congregation the story I have just shared with you.

As I waxed eloquent with my sermon, I told the congregation, that in a strange sort of way, I was the embodiment of the text scripture. I am the face and name to my mother and father's prayers - from sixty-four years ago. My life today is the evidence of things they could not have possibly seen when they prayed. I then stated, that although they may not realize it, they too are the names and faces of the prayers of yesterday's saints - those Founding Fathers who prayed for God to bless the church they had founded and to fill it with people needing to hear the Good News of Jesus Christ.

I closed by asking them, if God tarries His coming for another sixty-four years, would some preacher be able to stand in that pulpit on Homecoming Day 2083 and tell the congregation gathered on that day that they are the names and faces of the prayers we are praying today.

I encourage you to keep praying! Someday, somehow, there will be names and faces associated with your prayers ... just as you are a name and face of yesterday's prayers!

First Hogansville (FBCH) - had double cause to celebrate last month: The Fourth of July and the second anniversary of welcoming Pastor Greg Morris and his family to their congregation and into their hearts. "We are thankful that we have the freedom of open worship, and we are grateful to Pastor Greg for his direction as we do so. The Morris family has been a great blessing over the last two years, and we look forward to that continued leadership in our church and our community. According to Baptist tradition, we celebrated with food at a hamburger cookout and picnic on July 3, followed by games for the young and young-at-heart." • FBCH was an active place during the week of VBS, July 7-12. The VBS theme was "In The Wild, Amazing Encounters with Jesus." There were classes for children and adults. The crowd increased nightly and reached a high attendance of 185 on Thursday evening! Everyone had a fun and amazing time while learning about Jesus and how He wants to be the focus of our lives. On Family Night (Friday), the young people shared what they had learned with family and friends. It was obvious everyone had experienced a wonderful encounter in Christian love. There were several professions of faith and/or rededications during the week! "We feel blessed." The offering totaled $266 and was donated to God's Bread Basket, the local food pantry, which the children learned about during mission studies. VBS director, Mrs. Melanie Baswell, thanked everyone who participated in making VBS so successful. • On July 21, Dr. K.G. Bailey, Pastor, and the church choir of White Oak Grove Baptist Church of Senoia, led the Sunday Morning service at FBCH. Songs from the choir set the stage for a sweet time of fellowship, and Dr. Bailey delivered a Spirit-filled message that touched a cord in every heart. "We were blessed to have two congregations come together in praise and worship, and the love of God was truly in this place." Pastor Greg Morris spoke for all when he thanked Dr. Bailey and his church members for coming. "We look forward to future opportunities to worship together."

On The Lighter Side:

Farmer Evans was driving his John Deere tractor along the road with a trailer load of fertilizer. Tim, a little boy of eight, was playing in his yard when he saw the farmer and asked, "What've you got in your trailer?"

"Manure," Farmer Evans replied. "What are you going to do with it?" asked Tim. "Put it on my strawberries," answered the farmer. Tim replied, "You ought to come and eat with us, we put ice-cream on our strawberries."
