Getting the Corruption Out

My momma was a sage. She had a way of boiling her wisdom down to simple little sayings, that even as a child, I could understand. However, I later discovered that some of her sagely sayings were not grounded in as much scientific fact as she asserted. She was just manipulating my behavior! Sayings like: “Don’t cross your eyes; they’ll get stuck that way,” “Don’t scratch that; you’ll make it worse,” or “Don’t touch that frog; you’ll get warts.”

However, some of her sayings were so chock full of wisdom that they have stuck with me for a lifetime. Recently, the memory of one of her sayings came to life again.

I was born and raised in a vastly different time than today. I was raised in a time that, if you were made to stay inside the house, you were being punished for something. Country living meant you had all the great outdoors at your disposal to flesh out any game or activity you could imagine. We learned to hunt and fish. We learned how to build “hotrods” out of a piece of wood, a couple of axels, a few nails, and a rope for steering. We played games like freeze tag, hide and go seek, follow the leader, hand me over, and baseball - with a ball somebody’s momma had made of old socks, I might add.

Being raised poor meant, that as a young boy, you spent the summer roaming the woods barefooted, shirtless, and in a pair of cutoff britches. As a result of this, it wasn’t uncommon to get a briar, splinter, or something stuck somewhere on your body and for it to become infected. I can still hear my momma’s voice as she would call to me, “Come here to me young man; I need to look at that spot on you!” It didn’t take me long to learn that she had eyes in her fingers! Her “looking” meant she was about to mash the living daylight’s out of an infected splinter, briar, or something! I protested loudly, squirmed, and declared, “Momma, that hurts! Why are you doing that?” And she would reply, “Because it’s infected! And I’ve got to get the ‘corruption’ out before it can heal.” (She called infection corruption.) Then, after “looking” at it and torturing me for what seemed like a day, she would then put some Merthiolate or Mercurochrome on it. And oh boy, that was certainly special!

As you and I journey through this thing called life, unfortunately, all too often we get stuck by the thorns and splinters of undesirable circumstances, situations, and people. In our zeal for living, we often fail to stop and administer the proper treatment. Left untreated, over time, these thorns and splinters become infected sores filled with corruption. Corruption prevents healing and leads to unforgiveness, bitterness, and a miserable life. And as my momma said, it is not until we “get the corruption out” that healing can occur.

I wonder what thorn or splinter has caused you to be filled with corruption. Perhaps it’s a failed marriage and a bitter ex-spouse. Maybe it’s a wayward child. Maybe it was the betrayal of a trust or a failed friendship. Maybe it was mental, physical, or sexual abuse.

Maybe it was a business deal or business partnership gone bad. Maybe it was a moral failure by someone you held in the highest regards. Maybe somebody stole or took something very precious from you. Maybe it was _____. You fill in the blank! It could have been anything or anybody, but the result is the same: UNFORGIVENESS & CORRUPTION.

Forgiveness is a choice. It is not predicated upon the offender asking for forgiveness. No! It does not excuse what they did, nor does it give them permission to ever do it again. It simply means coming to the realization that the corruption we’re harboring is killing us. It means “choosing” to get it out so healing can occur. It simply means that the Jesus in us is bigger than the circumstances of our lives, or what somebody did!

I can almost hear the Lord saying to somebody, “Come here. Let Me look at that. I need to get the corruption out - so you can heal.”

Association - Faith Bible Institute held a graduation ceremony for eight recent graduates on Sunday, August 4. Those graduating were Rev. Tommy Jeter, Joy Burnham, Tabitha Daniel-Gates, Sheila Dean, Rev. Phillip McMillan, Jr., Michael Phillips, Susan Phillips and Rev. Jonathan Pike. Jane Gottshall is director of the Troup Baptist location of Faith Bible Institute. Kevin Dunn provided special music for the ceremony. Rev. Brad Thompson (Callaway), Rev. Aaron McCollough (Troup Baptist Assoc.), Rev. Kenneth Whitlock (New Hope - Greenville), Rev. Michael Stiggers (Eastside) and Rev. Adam Camp (Rosemont) all took part in the ceremony honoring the graduates. A reception was held following the ceremony. Mrs. Cookie Rainwater catered the event and it was grand! This year marks the 10th Anniversary of the Faith Bible Institute location at Troup Baptist Association. For more photos, visit the Troup Baptist Association Facebook page.

Association - Berta Weathersbee Back-to-School Breakfast was held on August 8. Dr. Tom Tucker, pastor of First Baptist in West Point, brought an encouraging message to the teachers and staff of Berta Weathersbee Elementary School. Using II Kings chapter 4 as his text, he recounted the stories of Elisha, God's prophet. He encouraged the teachers and administrators by reminding them that they were like Elisha, "The task is beyond you, but not beyond God! Just do what you know to do and God will supply every need according to His riches in glory."

"We are Praying for an extraordinary and safe school year!" • The Junior Children's Church group learned about David, the shepherd boy, and how he loved to pray and how we can pray too! • Mountville Mpcat members enjoyed a day of fun and worship at En Fuego 2019 on Saturday, August 24.

Mountville Pastor Dwayne Perdue baptized two in August.

News (continued)

New Hope (LaGrange) - School is back in session! During worship on Sunday, August 11, there was a special time dedicated to prayer for all our students and teachers. "We pray God's blessings and safety for this school year." • The Children's Dept. had a great time on July 31 while packing boxes for Operation Christmas Child. This year only monetary donations will be accepted and items for the shoe boxes will be purchased for each age group. "Thank you for supporting this ministry." • The church library is open each Sunday morning and Wednesday evening for members to check out books. There are lots of new true stories and Christian novels. "Please use this resource to get and read a good book." • Sunday School classes collected items such as glue sticks, tissues, band aids, etc. for teachers in some of the Troup County schools to use in their classrooms. "Thanks to everyone who helped with this project." The items will be appreciated. • HIS Club (Hope Inspired Seniors) visited Hills and Dales House and Garden for their August activity. Everyone had a wonderful time in this beautiful place. Afterwards, the group traveled to Rogers BBQ for lunch together. There will be no September meeting. • New Hope families had a great time of fun on Wednesday evening, September 4 decorating their personal tiles to be displayed on the wall in the Family Life Building.

The Sisters of Hope were entertained and blessed at their August 5 meeting by Teressia Barber as she portrayed the grandmother of Jesus and told His life story. Some areas were very funny but others were very serious, especially when she gave an invitation to come to Christ. "Thank you Teressia for using your talent to encourage others and to glorify God."

Highland - Homecoming is scheduled for Sunday, Sept. 8 at 10:30 am with no Sunday School that morning. Pastor Frank Powers, a native of Hogansville, will deliver the message and special music will be provided by Faithful Hearts, a group from LaGrange First Baptist Church on the Square. Covered dish lunch will follow. "We are looking forward to a great service and everyone is invited to join us. You will receive a blessing!"

- The Prayer and Squares group continues to meet several times each month to hand-tie lap quilts which are designated to someone who is sick or in need of prayer. Quilts are displayed in the church so anyone can say a prayer for the intended recipient and, at that time, loosely tie a knot on the quilt to represent the prayer. Once completed, the quilts are delivered, and the recipient can feel the knots and know that people prayed especially for them. Several have already been delivered to members who are in assisted living or nursing homes, and the recipients loved them. "We hope this will be a special ministry of our church for many years."

Lakeview - Homecoming will be Sunday, October 13 with special music by Erin Dorman; Sheriff James Woodruff will be the guest speaker. "Everyone is invited to attend."

- Donations of nonperishable foods with future expiration dates continue to be needed for the Food Closet. • WMU ladies and other church members are collecting donations of food and drinks to be delivered to LaGrange Hospice for the families of patients.

Happy Grandparents Day - September 8th

On The Lighter Side:

A little boy was in church next his father and at his father's request said a small prayer,

"Dear God, please bless Mommy and Daddy and all the family to be healthy and happy." Suddenly he looked up and said out loud, "And please don't forget to ask grandpa to give me a bicycle for my birthday!!"

"There is no need to shout like that," said his father. "God isn't hard of hearing."

"No," said the little boy, "but Grandpa is."
